This disclosure is required by California law (Section 10102 of the Insurance Code). It describes the principal forms of insurance coverage in California for residential dwellings. It also identifies the form of dwelling coverage you have purchased or selected. A checkmark in the box in the "Dwelling Coverage Selected or Purchased" column below identifies the form of dwelling coverage you have purchased or selected.

This disclosure form contains only a general description of coverages and is not part of your residential property insurance policy. Only the specific provisions of your policy will determine whether a particular loss is covered and, if so, the amount payable. Regardless of which type of coverage you purchase, your policy may exclude or limit certain risks.

This disclosure form does not explain the types of contents coverage (furniture, clothing, etc.) provided by your policy. Some policies do not replace contents with new items, but instead, only pay for the current market value of an item. If you have any questions, contact your insurer or agent.

The cost to rebuild your home may be very different from the market value of your home since reconstruction is based primarily on the cost of labor and materials. Many factors can affect the cost to rebuild your home, including the size of your home, the type of construction, and any unique features. Please review the following coverages carefully. If you have any questions regarding the level of coverage in your policy, please contact your insurance agent or company. Additional coverage may be available for an additional premium.

READ YOUR POLICY CAREFULLY. If you do not understand any part of it or have questions about what it covers, contact your insurance agent or company. You may also call the California Department of Insurance consumer information line at 1-800-927-HELP.
